COMMUNITY HEALTH INITIATIVE (CHI)

ABOUT THE PROJECTS

The University of Minnesota’s Office for Business & Community Economic Development, through funding provided by Medica, is proud to announce the Fall 2017 CHI Student Consulting Projects.

CHI Student Consulting Projects are experiential learning opportunities available to all University of Minnesota graduate and professional students from all schools and departments. Students work on specific projects that have been identified by local nonprofit organizations or businesses that are involved in addressing public health issues impacting underserved communities.

These projects attempt to solve an operational business need of the organization or address a health disparity in the community. One or more students are assigned to a project, depending on the scope and type of project requested, with each student contributing 60-80 hours each.

Projects run October through December 2017. Students are each paid a stipend of $1,050 (minus taxes) after project completion.
